

CENTRAL FIGURE on sculptured dome of proposed memorial building dedicated to man's peaceful pursuit of progress in space is shown here with its creator, Will Harder, a New Lenox artist. This model is to be shown at the Stone City Post, VFW, and Harwood Post, American Legion, in Joliet, and later at national headquarters of the Legion in Indianapolis, Harder said. A painting, without this central figure, is in the background. The pile of books beside the figure represents man's knowledge. The open volume on which the figure's right hand is resting is the Bible. His left hand is raised toward Heaven in supplication to God that man's better nature shall prevail. Harder calls it New Horizons and is hopeful of getting public support for the project. The building would be circular, 100 feet in diameter with an interior height of 50 feet. New Lenox Horse Show Benefits 4-H Groups

The annual horse show sponsored by the New Lenox Riding club drew crowds to the 4-H Francis Field ring June 24-25.

There were two divisions, the western and the society shows, with entries from various parts of Illinois and neighboring states.

Proceeds from the show went into a fund that is maintained for improvements at the 4-H Field where the Will County and South Cook County 4-H clubs hold their annual fairs. The fairs will be held this month.

There were 38 classes in the western show and, of course, they were quite popular as there are many devotees of the quarter horse in these parts. The society show had 15 classes and they were well received. The jumpers and the high school horses with their fashion plate riders and drivers always seem to thrill the spectators.

Tension King, ridden by Jan Lockhart, of Tinley Park, won the five-gaited class.

Virginia Hafk, of Mojena, placed first with Choc Man in the pony driving class; second with Protection's Little King, in the pony to bike event and third with the same entry in the open pony driving class.

Joanne Turney, of Orland Park, showed Nadeen in the Arabian Park class and it placed second; third in the event was Woodvel Rogatal, shown by C. Floyd, of New Lenox.

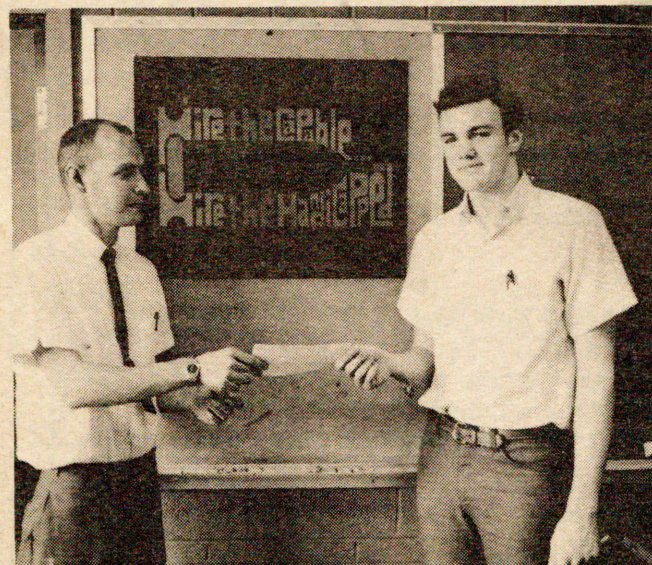

In the western show Lyle and Beverly Collins, Tinley Park, took third with Capex King in the stallions of 1963 or before. E. Mancke, Mokena, took a second with Parneau Dexter in geldings of 1965 and Triple R Ranch had a second with Low Dial in geldings of 1964. S. Cocoran, Orland Park, took a first with Natchic Chief for western model open stallions.

In western model colts of 1966 Cannon Tabby, owned by B. Jauch, New Lenox, was first; Tonkawa, owned by D. Anthony, Orland Park, was second, and Yelwe El Beat, owned by L. Bettenhausen, New Lenox.

J. Snyder, New Lenox, was second in the open costume event, and L. Rohland, New Lenox, was second in the "open speed'n action" with Red Bob and second with the same mount in the open rescue race.

J. Crawford, New Lenox, on the veteran Ginger, was first in the open senior trail and Bev Collins, Tinley Park, was second on Capex Cowpoke, while D. Wren of Palos Park was third with Cedar Bob.

First place in the open junior trail went to Randy, ridden by Kris Warning, New Lenox.

DAVE EDEN, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eden, 115 Prairie Rd., New Lenox, a recent graduate of Lincoln-Way High School, won first place in the Hire The Handicapped poster contest. His was among 99 entries from five area high schools.

Presenting the award is James Pitcairn, art teacher at Lincoln-Way.

AID 4-H LANDSCAPING project at Francis Field. Among the various individuals and groups contributing to this landscaping fund is the Woman's Club of Marley, represented here by Mrs. John Hasibar (left) and Mrs. Charles Elliott. The young lady is Roberta McQueen and doing the planting is James Schuster, University of Illinois, who is employed by Farm Bureau. Mrs. Hasibar is president of the Marley Woman's club. It is the hope of those directing the landscaping job that it will be finished before the Will and South Cook County 4-H fairs are held later this month.

Will County 4-H Fair Set For July 22, 23, 24

The annual Will County 4-H Fair at Francis Field will be held July 25, 26 and 27, which is a Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The Will County 4-H Show follows right on the heels of the South Cook County 4-H Fair. That too will be held at Francis Field in New Lenox Township and the dates for that are July 22, 23 and 24.

The Will County show has been larger than its South Cook counterpart in past years but both shows are quite popular and draw thousands of visitors. There is no admission charge.

The Will County show will have hundreds of entries in various divisions out most of the interest usually centers on the cattle and the sewing skills of the 4-H girls. Some of the girls only model dresses and coats but show cattle too and sometimes this makes quick changes necessary.

There is always a throng in the Exhibition hall when the dresses and coats are modeled. This, of course, occurs after the exhibit of cakes, pies, cookies and breads is out of the way.

Sheep and swine and rabbits are shown besides the dairy and beef cattle and there are also exhibits of farm produce, handicraft and other 4-H projects.

Top prize winners in the 4-H fairs are eligible to compete in the 4-H show at the Illinois State Fair. Those with prize cattle usually show at neighboring county fairs too, not only for a chance at further honors but for experience which may serve them at the state fair.

Those in charge of the South Cook and Will County shows are hopeful that the weatherman will be kind. Last year the Cook County show had to contend with inclement weather.

Seek Vandals Who Shot Show Cattle

Two purebred registered yearling Shorthorn bulls were shot, one fatally early Wednesday morning (June 28) on the Willow Lane Farm, 134th and Parker Rd. The farm is in Homer and Le-mont townships and owned by Sherman T. Swanson, who also owns a chain of men's wear shops in Chicago.

According to Donald Cagwin, herdsman, the animals are quite valuable. Thirty of their half brothers have sold at an average price of $4,700 each.

Investigators believe the shooting was deliberate. There is a gravel road near the pasture where the animals were shot and Will County sheriff's deputies are looking for a carload of teens that have been seen in the area, firing rifles from the moving car.

One of the bulls was struck in the left foreleg and while there was considerable damage the animal should recover but it is possible that it will be ruined as a show bull. The other animal was struck in the right rump and the bullet went on to rupture the colon and some of the intestines. That animal died.

In the past two years Jill Swanson, a 4-H'er, has won trophies with Shorthorn steers that she has raised on Willow Lane Farm. In 1965 she had the grand champion of the Will County 4-H Fair and last year her entry was the reserve grand champion.

Miami, Florida, spent a few days last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hasibar.

Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Osborn entertained at an open house in their home on July 1 in honor of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kapture, who were married in Champaign, Illinois on June 8. The newlyweds are both attending graduate school at the University of Illinois.

-0-

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Harmon and family have returned to their home after a vacation trip through the western states to California.

Reunion

The descendants of Christ Yunker family reunion will be held on Sunday, July 9, in the Altrium, at the Peotone fair grounds, starting at 12:30 p.m. with a pot luck dinner. Come and make this a joyous occasion.

BETTY JANE MALLOY -- Mr. and Mrs. William T. Malloy, East Circle Drive, Lincolnwood Hills, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Michael A. Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bernard, of 10942 W. First St., Mokena. No definite date has been set for the wedding. Both Miss Malloy and her fiancé are graduates of Lincoln - Way High School. She is employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., at Joliet. The bridegroom-to-be is in the U.S. Navy and stationed at Key West.

Road Signs -- Entertaining

In Westchester County, New York, you no longer see the traffic sign warning "Elephant Crossing." The sign was taken down after an errant elephant was recaptured.

However, the Chicago Motor Club - AAA reports, there are many amusing and puzzling traffic signs scattered along the nation's highways. There's even a Museum of Unusual Traffic Signs, a part of the Cataphote Institute of Traffic Psychology at Toledo, Ohio.

This one, near the First Congregational Church at Baiting Hollow, L.I., is designed to give the motorist pause:

"Thou Shalt Not Speed-- Church Zone."

Confusion about the proper way to get where you want to go has led to the posting of at least two signs. One, at King's Canyon National Park in California warns, "This is NOT the Road to Fresno." Another, in Delaware, just beyond a "Y" intersection, bears this disturbing information, "This is NOT U.S. 40."

In Nebraska, a sign along the approach to a curve gave the safe maximum speed, "30 MPH." But motorist ignored it, and the Department of Roads changed the sign to read: "We Are Not Fooling -- 30 MPH." It was successful, so a similar sign was posted at another dangerous curve.

Diamond shaped signs normally are designed to carry notice to the motorist to be careful of a hazard ahead. One in Dayton, Ohio, "warns" the motorist that there is "No Signal Ahead."

Stop signs appear to pose a problem -- and sometimes a chance for levity -- in certain areas.

A message in New Haven printed on the standard red octagon-shaped stop sign in the standard white letters, says "Hesitate."

In Canada's Province of Alberta, traffic officials couldn't find a Cree Indian word for "Stop." They solved the problem by using the nearest Cree word, which means "Whoa" in English.

And in Watrace, Tenn., the Chamber of Commerce of that center of the Tennessee walking horse may have had a hand in the stop signs, which also read "Whoa."

The Fresno County (Calif.) Sportsmen's Club erected this warning: "Slow -- Pheasant Crossing -- Drive Carefully -- Thank You."

Those who bet on the bang-tails come in for special consideration at 33rd and Cicero Avenue in Chicago, where a sign reads "Caution -- Drive With Care -- Horse Players Path."

On U.S. 301 in North Carolina, a traffic engineer reported seeing a sign warning, "Somewhere Ahead -- Radar."

A bridge project over Cerritos Channel, a favorite spot with water skiers, brought these warnings, "Construction Zone -- SKI Carefully."

The Maine Highway Commission keeps spares on hand because souvenir hunters keep swiping the cluster of directional signs which read, "Norway, 14 mi.; Paris, 15 mi.; Denmark, 23 mi.; Naples, 23 mi.; Sweden, 25 mi.; Poland, 27 mi.; Mexico, 37 mi.; Peru, 46 mi., and China, 94 mi."

A grade crossing sign in Illinois informs the driver, "Average train passes this crossing in 14 seconds -- whether your car is on it or not."

A highway sign in Long Island cautions, "Drive Carefully -- Don't Insist on Your Rites," and one in Virginia says, "Drive Carefully -- Careless Children." And a headstone type marker outside Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio, puts it this way: "Drive Carefully -- Hell Ain't Half Full."

Proposed Airport In Homer A Sore Point With Some People

As a result of the effort of the Joliet Chamber of Commerce and the Joliet city council to locate an airport in Homer Township the AIC (Airport Investigation Committee) has been organized as a not-for-profit corporation to fight the proposal.

At a meeting of the organization last week plans were discussed for a program to keep business away from Joliet merchants in retaliation for the attempt by the Joliet Chamber of Commerce to bring an airport to Homer Township.

According to a spokesman for the AIC there is growing opposition to plunking an international airport down in the area and the AIC has members from 20 different communities, including Homer, New Lenox, Lockport, Mokena, Lemont, Orland Park and Palos Park.

At last week's meeting it was brought out that Mayor Maurice Berlinsky wrote a letter to the Illinois Department of Aeronautics urging it to designate the proposed Homer site for an international airport and concluded the missive by asking that the letter be kept confidential so it wouldn't stir up any agitation among the people who might be affected.

Frank Lynch, a physicist at Argonne Laboratory, told people at the meeting last week that today's jets are harmful to human hearing. He felt there was no possible way to measure the noise levels of the giant Whale jets designed to carry from 490 to 1,000 passengers at speeds from 1,800 to 2,000 miles an hour.

Since the International airport the Joliet Chamber of Commerce is talking about would be built to handle these "whale jets," those with some knowledge of aerodynamics say there is no cause for worry by area residents. The proposed site in Homer would be all right, they say for small craft, but 15,000 acres wouldn't make a patch on a field that giant jets of the near future would need.

While some pilots dispute the need of 15-mile runways, members of the Will County board have been informed that such distances are contemplated in the proposed new international airport. It was pointed out that O'Hare couldn't handle the big jobs and a 15,000 acre patch in Homer wouldn't be any better.

Area residents say that if Joliet wants a giant airport why not locate it in, on or around Joliet.
